COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The fire chief, police officer and town manager attended a meeting of the Rescue Squad in the town of Oxford Tuesday night. They are very well organized with about 20 men participating. The two vehicles they have were donated by the Oxford Plains Speedway. These are panel trucks that have been renovated by members of the squad so that they are adapted for emergency rescue service.

The units are not yet in active service in the community as the local ambulance service does not cease operation until Dec. 31. The vehicles with members of the squad are in use at the Raceway during races.

It is apparent we lack the most important factor in making an operation such as this work. That is, enthusiasm on the part of personnel. There must be at least one who can assume leadership of such an organization. This person will have to devote a considerable amount of time, not only locally with other volunteers but also he should attend schools and other sources of information on the various aspects of such a service.

There have been approximately 10 who have expressed a desire to participate in a local volunteer service.

CENTRAL MAINE GUIDANCE COUNCIL MEETS AT BETHEL INN

Administrative and department heads of School Administrative District 44 and Telstar Regional High School were guests of the Telstar Guidance Department at dinner and meeting of the Central Maine Guidance Council which was held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, at the Bethel Inn.

Members from guidance departments in schools throughout central Maine were in town to attend the meeting and also had the opportunity to enjoy two guided tours.

In early afternoon, the group visited the Satellite Tracking Station at Andover and later toured Telstar Regional High School with hosts, Principal Keith Cunningham and David Denison of the Telstar guidance department.

Following the dinner at the Bethel Inn, Howard Blasenak, director of guidance at Augusta, spoke to the group and presented various colleagues who made brief comments. Mr. Blasenak is a past president of the Maine Personnel and Guidance Association and a past secretary-treasurer of the Central Maine Guidance Association.

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS TABLE ACTION ON MOVING WEST BETHEL BUILDING

Following a report of the building committee, Monday evening, the directors of School Administrative District 44 voted to table any further action relative to moving the West Bethel school building to the Crescent Park School site. The building committee's report indicated that, at the least, a cost of $21,000 would be incurred in moving the structure and renovating at the new location. Other items taken into consideration in the decision were the number of utility poles and wires to be temporarily removed, signs and other obstacles along any route the 37x55 main building might take, as well as the possibility that even having the building at the Bethel village site would not postpone a building program for any number of years.

In other action at the Telstar Regional High School session the board approved the nomination of Mrs. Elmira W. Doyen to teach grade five at Crescent Park School for the 1969-70 school year, and of Mrs. Monique Rolfe to teach French at Telstar on a one-half day basis.

Mrs. Doyen graduated from Gould Academy in 1929 and received her teaching diploma from Farmington Normal School in 1931. She received her B. S. from Gorham State College in 1957. Mrs. Doyen taught at the South Bethel School from 1939-44; Bethel Grammar School, 1944-45; North Kennebunkport, 1951-55; Wells Junior High, 1955-57; Thornton Heights School, South Portland, 1957-64, and the Waldo Skillin School, South Portland, in 1964. She and her husband reside in Albany.

The superintendent, Ralph Ryder, reported that Charles Howe has been hired on a substitute basis to fill in for Glenn Bangs during Mr. Bangs' absence for military service.

The directors approved the re-awarding of bids for No. 6 fuel oil to the American Oil Company, Md. Ryder stated that an error on his part resulted in his recommendation of the Union Oil Co. bid at the last regular board meeting. The American Oil bid was $0.571 per gallon delivered, and Union Oil, $0.582.

Preliminary approval was granted the following transportation policy: Transportation of Students to Places Other Than Normal Pickup Points. Students who are transported to and from school at the expense of the District are required to ride on their designated bus. Students will be allowed to ride on buses other than their designated bus by special parental request and only if there is available space on the non-designated bus and/or the request does not interfere with the normal route schedule of the non-designated bus. If a non-designated bus request does interfere with overloading and/or a normal bus route schedule, the student or his parent will be responsible for making the necessary arrangements for transportation.

Andover director John Rieker, reported that Eddie Snyder, Andover; Paul Wight, Newry; Roger Spagnardi, administrative assistant, and Mr. Ryder attended a Maine State School Boards meeting at the U. of M. on Sept. 20. Information relating to continued on Page Eight

GILEAD VOTERS DECLINE ACCEPTANCE OF DONATED FOOD PLAN

At a special town meeting, Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, a vote of 25 to 11 against acceptance of the Donated Food Plan in Gilead was the answer to a petition presented to the board of selectmen a few weeks ago.

The board of selectmen wishes to thank Allen Cole of the Oxford County Economic Opportunity Council who was present at this meeting answering questions of interest regarding the plan from the Council's point of operation. Thanks are extended also to Peggy Stone who explained the operation of the plan on the local town level, it's gratifications and problems. The presence of Allen Cole and Peggy Stone gave the people of Gilead a clear, impartial understanding of the plan.

Cynthia Mason, moderator, conscientiously brought out many interesting features such as asking for people to donate their time to do the work on the local level etc. There was less than adequate support. The consensus of opinion was that the plan would not be workable in Gilead.

STATE POLICE DESTROY MARIJUANA PLANTS FOUND AT MIDDLE INTERVALE

State Police troopers and detectives harvested and destroyed some 2,000 marijuana plants growing wild on a farm on the Middle Intervale road last Thursday evening.

The crop, termed "the largest amount" yet harvested in the state by authorities, was discovered about two weeks before on a farm belonging to Richard Carter.

Trooper Detective Gene Bickford of South Paris is reported to have stated that there was no doubt that the crop had flourished on its own, without help from anyone.

Detective Bickford said the plants attracted the attention of a farm machinery salesman, Fred Littlefield, of Raymond, on Sept. 9, when he visited the Carter farm to deliver some machinery parts. Mr. Littlefield took a sample of the plant to Trooper Gerald Smith of Bethel, who forwarded it to State Police headquarters to be analyzed according to authorities. The results of the test came back positive on Thursday.

Bickford also stated that the crop was growing in a random manner on the former site of an old barn which had been torn down and bulldozed over early this year.

The crop is believed to be the first found growing "wild" in Oxford County. Bickford added he had no doubt that the plants "happened" naturally. He noted there was no order to the pattern of growth as had been evident in similar instances when marijuana was discovered growing.

Officials speculated the seeds might have been in the barn which was destroyed. Marijuana plants were once harvested by farmers to be used as hemp in making rope in the 19th century, and the Bethel seeds conceivably could have been holdovers from the past.

Aiding Bickford were State Police Sgt. Everett Trask of Scarborough barracks, Troopers Smith, Haven Hutchinson of West Paris, Wayne Gray of Rumford and Jerold Joles of Mexico.

Civilians Alden Mason of Gilead and Roland Kneeland of West Bethel also assisted officials in the operation.

RECIPIENTS OF DONATED FOOD TO MEET WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1

There will be a meeting for all people receiving donated food at the Ethel Bisbee School in Bethel on Wednesday evening, Oct. 1, at 7:30.

East Andover Club Holds
Annual Banquet

On Sept. 16, 17 members and one guest motored to North Livermore for their annual banquet. Six members were unable to attend.

A short business meeting was held. Cards had been sent to Mrs. Eva Jackson, Get Well; Mrs. Donna Gammon, Baby Card; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Swain, Anniversary Card; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gosselin, special 50th wedding anniversary cake; thank-yous to Mr. and Mrs. John Fox and Mrs. Omer Spidel for money gifts for the Community Picnic.

Thank-yous were read from the Gosselins: Gale Glover, for gifts given her while she was hospitalized; and from the Chenerys for the two food baskets taken in while she was recuperating from a broken foot.

The Rummage Sale was a success. Articles left were given to Mrs. Maurice Cray for distribution to needy families. Ten dollars of the total was set aside for "Dollars for Scholars." Discussed giving another award at Awards Night in May. Will discuss this more at a later meeting.

Several contributed to the Missionary collections.

Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons Jr., will celebrate their 50th anniversary on Oct. 3. Mrs. Theodore Conrad will entertain at the Oct. 14 meeting with Mrs. Robert Dorey as co-hostess.

Attending were Mrs. James Goodwin, Mrs. Everett Farrington, Mrs. William Crocker, Sr., Mrs. Ralph Elson, Mrs. Linwood Tucker, Mrs. Mary Marston, Mrs. Arthur Hutchins, Mrs. Robert B. Swain, Mrs. Freeman Farrington, Mrs. Sidney Jones, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Linwood Averill, Mrs. Sylvanus Glover, Mrs. William Simmons, Jr., Mrs. Theodore Conrad, Mrs. Paul DeShong, and Miss Marilyn White. Mrs. Wanda Wilson was a guest.

Following the dinner joke gifts were exchanged between mystery sisters.

Mrs. Orville Meisner is chairman for the Andover Girl Scout Campaign. Leaders are urgently needed. The fund raising is to be completed by Oct. 14 by the following: Mrs. Elton Coolidge, Middle Main Street and Maple Street; Mrs. Marcel Clement, Lower Main Street; Mrs. Paul Nevel, Upper Main Street. Willing Workers met at the Union Church with Barbara Cash as hostess on Thursday night with the following in attendance: Goldie Mason, Muriel Brown, Miriam Harris, June Demarest, Olive Davis, Esther Davis, Bernice Davis, Zella Silver, Martha Clements and Barbara Cash. The general business was taken up. It was voted to send plants to Taisto Koskela and Emma Perham who are in the hospital. The next meeting will be at Esther Davis' or the Union Church. See you there.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Allen called on Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews. They had been attending the races at West Paris.

Mrs. Pearl Benson has been spending the last two weeks with her sister, Myrtle Weeks, of Freeport. We are sorry to hear Mrs. Emma Perham, the Perkins Valley reporter, is in the hospital at this writing. She has had a cataract removed from one eye. She is getting along well.

The two articles dealing with funds to be applied to construction this year on the East B Hill Road. Under Article 2 the selectmen were authorized to borrow the sum of $7,900 in anticipation of State Aid Road Construction Funds for the year 1970 and 1971 and under Article 3 were authorized to borrow a further amount not to exceed $6,500 for construction. It is anticipated that these two sums will complete Andover's part of the East B Hill Road.

GOD BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER

by Rev. Frederick Bailey, Pastor of the Bethel United Methodist Church

As we behold the mountains and valleys which are clothed with the splendor of autumn colors, our thoughts turn to our Creator. Even as the heavens and the earth came to be through his creative power so He creates new people by giving us new and vital spiritual life. By making us new people in Christ, God reconciles us to one another. He can bring us together East and West, rich and poor, Negro and White, young and old. He can bring together a divided home. He can bridge all of the gaps and bring us into a brotherhood in which "we are all the children of God by faith". To receive this new life of God which brings people together you need only come to God with your sense of need and put your trust in Him.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Maine, for the purpose of geographical information on Guidance issues is divided into three areas.

Central Maine includes S. A. D. 43, Portland and the Coastal Area, Bangor and communities north. The groups desire to meet four times a year to discuss current practices in guidance and the potential future of guidance with special reference to our "Youth" in Maine.

At the current time there are about 400 counselors in Maine for classes 7 to 12; needless to say not enough.

The immediate problem is in our elementary grades, K through 6. The record indicates that there are two counselors in Augusta, three in Bangor and 12 others throughout the area, mostly in small communities. The position in S. A. D. 44 was created in September 1969, under the guidance of Leonard Brooks.

Mrs. Natalie Timberlake and Mrs. Dorothy J. Glazier are spending Thursday and Friday, Sept. 25-26 in Bedford, N. H., as guests of the New England Reading Conference at the Sheraton-Wayfarer Hotel. Mrs. Glazier is exhibiting recent material on reading which is being demonstrated by Mrs. Timberlake.

This week a mother of a Telstar '69 senior girl, now in college, wrote to me at the Rumford hospital: "We enjoy your article in the Bethel Citizen. You are doing such a fine job from which so many benefit. You have our warmest get-well wishes."

Another former student wrote from East Paterson, N. J., "In your illness your heart is always with us."

Study Guide

When solving or attempting to solve problems, how often do I? Clearly define the problem before attempting its solution; Collect sufficient data on the problem; Eliminate unrelated information; Organize my data into a logical system; Divide complex problems into sub-problems; Formulate my hypothesis; Test my hypothesis; Look for new ideas.

When reading, how often do I? Read with a well-defined purpose; Skim efficiently before studying; Read in surroundings conducive to concentration; Read at a rate commensurate with ability to comprehend; Look up new words either during or after reading; Make use of such aids as topic sentences, graphs, pictures and key sentences.

When using books, how often do I? Treat the book with care; Endeavor to locate the best book for the information desired; Endeavor to find the purpose for which the book was written; Make use of aids such as the index, table of contents, and graphs; Notice the name of the author; Note the publisher and date of publication.

When using a library, how often do I? Use such aids as card catalog and indexes; Make adequate use of reference books; Use efficient ways of locating books; Ask the librarian for assistance when necessary; Take advantage of special services such as the music department and the art exhibits.

When gathering and organizing material on a topic or subject, how often do I? Have in mind the exact statement of the problem; Use appropriate sources, such as experts, references, bibliographies, and government services; Associate new ideas with old services; Take and keep notes efficiently.

When writing papers, how often do I? Have a definite plan; Look up and organize material before starting to write; Use an outline plan in writing; Check for grammatical errors; rewrite carefully.

JAY SCORES LATE TO DEFEAT TELSTAR IN SATURDAY CONTEST

Jay High School struck for two touchdowns in the final period to score an 18-14 come-from-behind win over host Telstar Regional High School in their Mountain Valley Conference football battle Saturday afternoon.

It was the second triumph for the Tigers in three starts while Telstar is winless in three outings.

Steve Blake gave Telstar its first-period score on a 46-yard run and LaPointe got the equalizer for Jay on a 39-yard romp.

The locals marched 50 yards for a second-period score, with Don Luxton hitting over from the one. Dana Melville rushed the conversion and it was Telstar, 14-6 at halftime.

The Tigers roared back to win the game in the final chapter on a 15-yard run by LaPointe and a 50-yard scamper by Trask.

Telstar had two other touchdowns nullified by penalties.

Fishing Trip Into Northwest Territory

pool with the lakers. This was caught on a lure used for the lake trout. All four caught 18-24 pounders. Al had fish on his line that would have topped the 25 pounds but was unable to get them off the bottom. At one time he had 103 yards of line out.

On September 8 there was a cold wind blowing. Those days it was not safe to be out in the boat or raft so fishing was done on the rocks near shore. After one session with a laker Ross hauled it ashore, unhooked it and said, "I think this one earned the right to go," and watched it swim away. All the fish could not be kept, but they all had the fun of catching big ones.

Once while coming toward shore the Swain's saw a wolf near where the fish were buried in the moss. Looking over the ridge they saw another wolf. As they came nearer shore the wolf left. There were no trees and the terrain only rose approximately 200 feet. It was very easy to see animals in the tundra.

On Sept. 9 the wind blew so hard that they all stayed in camp. When the wind blew from the north there was no place to fish because of the severe cold. Several times the men went with Indian Joe looking for caribou. He lived at Reindeer Lake, 400 miles away and wanted to take some meat back for his family. By this time provisions were getting low. When the men purchased food they had not been told that they had to provide for the Indian. He was a very hearty eater. The last day Joe and Al were a long ways from camp fishing and looking for caribou. They had a frightful trip back to camp, arriving quite late. Swain had hot soup for Joe and plenty of tea ready for Al. They had a very hard trip back against the wind.

Sept. 10 was the day that the plane was supposed to arrive at Grant Lake for the return trip. Food was very scarce. The bread was all gone, with weather cold and windy, so the men feared the plane would not arrive, because of the weather. That day there were short snow squalls. Men came back into camp mid morning with hands nearly frozen. That day all the men came in to camp at noon but did not eat much, still fearing the plane would not arrive. It isn't the best feeling to have very little food, low on fuel for the stoves, cold and windy weather and the possibility of being weathered in for several more days.

Some went searching for caribou that afternoon and saw many animals at close range. All hopes faded that the plane was coming in that day but what a joy to hear the motors at about 4 p. m. It did not take long for the five with the aid of the pilot, to break camp and load the plane. With the aid of a strong wind from the northlands the plane took off at 6. What a good feeling to be up and headed toward civilization!

The pilot stopped at the weather station for fuel and another passenger. By that time it was quite late to be headed for Lynn Lake, a distance of 300 miles. After flying for nearly an hour the pilot changed his course and headed for a surveyors' camp. It was nearly dark when they landed there, only to find the camps empty. There was however, a gas stove for cooking, and plenty of canned goods so the seven men stayed there in two camps that night. There were two oil stoves to help heat the cabins. The cabins had wood floors with sides, and canvas over the rafters for the roof. These camps were made for summer use, Indian

Joe did the dishes after the men had eaten a good supper thanks to the surveyors. It was the most comfortable night the men had since arriving in the Northwest Territory. Next morning after a good breakfast of pancakes, juice and peaches, the pilot took off. It was not the best flying weather, but he was a capable pilot and knew the country well. Before the plane left Lariviere was able to take quite a few pictures.

The plane stopped at Reindeer Lake for gas and to say goodbye to Indian Joe. This was his home. When the plane docked it was quite a sight to see the little Indian child run to the edge of the lake to help pull the plane to shore. Anything that Joe handed to the children they took and disappeared very quickly. The pilot paid Joe $20 for his week's work.

The Twin Beech D18 took off once more for the last part of the journey. They arrived at Lynn Lake on September 11. Lynn Lake has copper and nickel mining operations at approximately six thousand feet underground. They also have a large commercial fishing business of white fish and walleye. The fish are brought in from Reindeer Lake. The white fish have been scooped up into tubs and brought to the Lynn Lake Packers Company for shipping. It was at this fishing company that the men took their fish to be packed in crates and iced down. Usually fish to be transported via airlines were fillets and frozen. This group wanted whole fish to be transported. They were not frozen, so after being crated they were sealed in heavy plastic, for the flight to Winnipeg.

The Larivieres had three boxes of fish and the Swains had one box, the freight was $46.13 and the packing cost was $16.10.

Arrived in Winnipeg safely after flights amounting to 1600 miles. A taxidermist from Winnipeg came to the airport and took a large lake trout and a grayling to be mounted for the Larivieres and a grayling for Swain. These fish will be shipped later. A duty will have to be paid on the fish when they cross the border.

Left Winnipeg at midnight on September 11 for the non-stop trip back to Maine. The fast trip was for Philip Lariviere to register at Wentworth Institute; for Ross Swain to begin his freshman year at Telstar Regional High School; and to get the fish taken care of in the warm September weather. Ross is having his 22 pound lake trout mounted by a Lewiston taxidermist.

Grant Lake is in the 64th parallel—only 200 miles from the Arctic Circle. For the last 150 miles into Grant Lake there were no trees and it would have been impossible to have had a fire had their fuel supply been used up. The Indian went into camp with only the clothes on his body. He was a short smiling man—as one man said "His smile was wide and narrow." He understood a little English. Guides are sent in by the bush airlines to be with the fishermen and to protect the airlines by law. They were not guides as they are known in this area.

The trip could have been by air all the way from Montreal, but as Ross said, "That would have spoiled the trip." They could have taken a 30 hour railroad trip from Winnipeg to Lynn Lake, which the plane did in three hours. The train goes very slowly as there is no base for the tracks. Gasoline was 50-60c per gallon and airplane gas was $2.50 per gallon. The fishing license was $2.00.

The wind and overcast were the only bad things about the trip from the north to Winnipeg, and from there to Maine it was because of the rush to get home. Had they gone earlier in August the insects would have been unbearable. The moss protects the bugs until a warm day and then they appear.

Lariviere planned this trip during the spring and summer. Now the four travelers are back with many tales to tell this winter. Lariviere is back to his snowmobile business at South Rumford; Swain has resumed the dowel business at East Andover, and the two teenagers are back in their respective schools with many happy memories.

2 YEAR TRACK WARRANTY

A two year warranty against track separation applies to all 1970 single cylinder MOTO-SKI models. Standard warranty applies to 438, 500 and 634 cc models.

"Story of Moto-Ski's Exclusive Track"

Every MOTO-SKI built features our exclusive and unique Rubberized Steel Cleated Track.

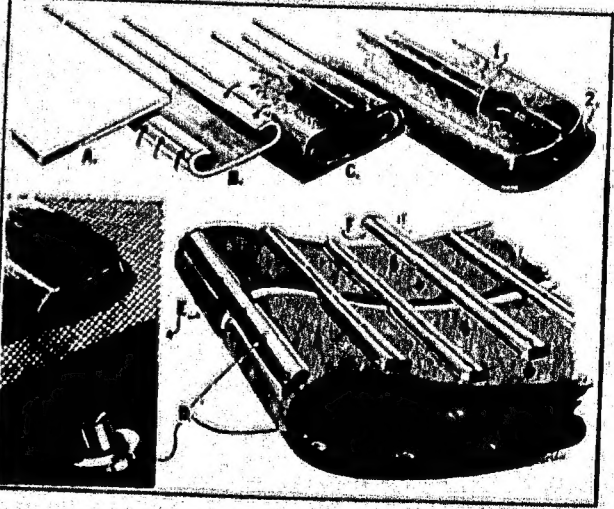

What's so special about this track? Take the cleat itself; we start with a slab of flat steel (A). First, we put a very exacting curl to the metal's edge (B); then, each cleat is carefully hand-dipped in molten rubber and molded. Note how the curled edge allows the steel to become completely encased (C). Final shaping of each cleat gives this track its prime characteristics: (1) the traction rib for hard-packed or crusty snow (2) the beveled edge for superior performance in deep, soft snow.

Damage to ordinary, molded tracks, without cleats, requires total track replacement (at about a hundred bucks!).

On the MOTO-SKI track, individually mounted cleats can be quickly and inexpensively replaced (F). Each is secured with a half-dozen, tubular steel rivets (D) at intervals of about every three inches. The 3-ply belt (E) is constructed of the highest quality rubber and nylon and is designed with a roughly textured outer surface (greater traction) and a smooth inner finish (less friction). Its non-molded construction creates far greater flexibility at lowest temperatures... providing maximum conformability to all type terrains.

When you invest in a snowmobile, you have a right to expect that it will go where snowmobiles are supposed to go. With its exclusive track, MOTO-SKI meets this responsibility. The result: a superior performance on ice, crust, snow, deep snow and deep, deep snow.

The standard MOTO-SKI track width is 15". The big wide track measures 18" across.

On Aug. 20, Allen Lariviere, his son, Philip, 18, South Rumford; Robert B. Swain, and his son, Ross, 14, East Andover, left on a two week fishing trip into the Northwest Territory, hauling a U-Haul trailer with an icebox stored inside to bring back the BIG fish safely.

The group drove in Swain's station wagon as far as Liskeard, Ont., the first day. The second day found the group in Fort William, Ont., along the bank of Lake Superior. The third day, after miles and miles of level roads, woods, fields of grain and black soil they rolled into Winnipeg, Man. The three drivers were able to drive 600-650 miles a day on the very good two lane highways of Routes 11 and 17. Only once were they detoured because of construction.

In Winnipeg they toured the city until early afternoon of Sept. 1, then they parked the car at a modern airport and boarded a turbo prop twin Hawker Siddley aircraft for the three hour trip to Lynn Lake. This aircraft carried approximately 36 passengers with a crew of four. It was a cloudy day, as most of the days were on the trip, so the sights were few. This flight made two stops, one at Flin Flon and the other at The Pas, before landing at Lynn Lake.

Arriving a day earlier than planned at Lynn Lake gave the group plenty of time to sight see, talk with residents, and to buy provisions for the seven days "in the bush." Due to a shortage of rooms at the hotel the Maine group stayed in an apartment that belonged to one of the pilots. The manager of the Hudson Bay Company opened the store so that purchases could be made for the early morning trip, weather permitting, to Grant Lake, a distance of 500 miles.

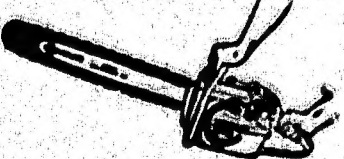

On Sept. 2, the four men from Maine plus Indian guide Joe Clarke, dressed in their woods clothes, were ready for the last leg of the trip. Due to low overcast in the Lynn Lake area it was impossible to take off. There was a weather station 300 miles to the north that was forecasting clear weather in their area and points farther north. The fishermen spent all day browsing the stores and visiting at the airport. That day they ate at "Wong's" and had a very good dinner for $1.45. By this time they had two more passengers to accompany them, two men that were going as far as the weather station at Ennadal. At 7 p. m. the pilot decided they would start their 300 miles north! It took about an hour to get above the tree line and the weather grew steadily better.

The sun set at 9 p. m. and was a beautiful sight. Arrived at Ennadal at 9:30. Five men met the plane, even the cook. He said he would have baked a cake if he had known they were coming. They spent the night there, sleeping in unheated buildings

ODDS/ENDS WANTED FOR ELEMENTARY ART PROGRAM IN S. A. D. 44

Materials used in painting and sculpture used to be fairly simple. A few varieties of paint—oil, tempera, water color; several kinds of wood, stone and clay. Not anymore! The 20th Century has been very exciting with more and more new materials showing up in works of art so that today, literally anything can be used as an art material. In current exhibits, you can find paintings and sculpture incorporating anything from wire to neon lights, torn paper to perforated steel, as well as an endless number of ready-made materials or "found objects", such as whole chairs, driftwood, scrap metal, feathers, ping pong balls, broken tile, bits of glass and bicycle handles.

Some of the excitement of exploring every possible material has affected elementary art classes in S. A. D. 44, where in addition to drawing, painting and modeling, children can be found making pictures with buttons or bean eyes, yarn hair, cotton clouds, wood trees or cellophane windows and constructions out of wire, pipecleaners, corrugated cardboard, wood and so on. Anything can be used that is available and appeals to the children's imagination.

The use of a wide variety of materials adds interest and economy to art classes. And while odds and ends reduce the school art budget they are a priceless kind of material. No store sells all the wonderful bits of cloth, empty thread spools, yarn and buttons that can be found in a well-established sewing basket or the collections of shapes and textures to be found in an odds and ends box of bolts, corks, bottle caps, bits of metal, lengths of wire, pieces of sandpaper, used flashbulbs, etc. The kinds of scraps needed in art classes can be found in those boxes that are intended to be thrown out someday—old magazines, newspapers, onion bags, burlap bags, cardboard tubes, shirtdoors, candy boxes, egg cartons. All of these articles have many uses and as long as they are clean, it doesn't matter how old and battered they may be.

During the school year, children in the elementary schools will be asked to bring whatever kinds of odds and ends are available at home. Scraps are a very valuable art material and add a great deal to an art program. Any of the following items will be most appreciated: ends of yarn, string, raffia, trimmings, buttons, beads, scraps of material of all kinds such as printed, cotton with small patterns, plain cotton, wool, net, felt, burlap, suede and corduroy. All kinds of paper scraps, such as wallpaper, wrapping paper, tissue paper, cellophane, corrugated paper, corrugated cardboard, any textured paper (as in candy boxes), shelf paper, contact, old magazines, newspapers, paper bags, cardboard tubes from paper towels, wax paper, shirt boards from the laundry, empty thread spools, very small cardboard and wooden boxes, flat boxes (candy, stockings, etc.), egg cartons (white styrofoam and gray paper mache), bolts, screws, odd lengths of wire, pipecleaners, scraps of metal (sheet tin or copper, small broken metal parts), hardware cloth, window screening, small door springs, chains, corks, used flashbulbs, pieces of jewelry. It would be helpful if small items such as beads, buttons and jewelry could be brought in separate bags or boxes.

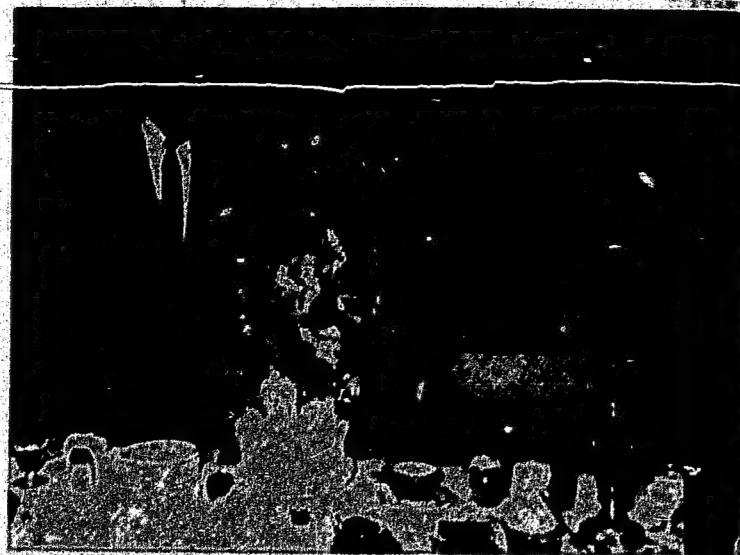

Guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Perkins are Jessie Sloan of Halifax, New Brunswick, and Evelyn MacDougall of Sidney, New Britain, Canada.

IN AND ABOUT BETHEL

Dorothy Lovejoy is taking the nursing course at NHVTC, Berlin. Mrs. Kate Adams spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Dorion, and left for her home in Tangerine, Fla., on Wednesday.

David Carter and Andrew Buck have both returned to the University of Maine, Orono, where David is a dorm counselor in Oak Hall.

Glenn Bangs, music teacher at Telstar, is at Ft. Lewis, Wash., where he is undergoing basic training in the Army Reserve.

Tuesday guests of Mrs. Richard Carter of Middle Intervale, were Mrs. Mildred Cotton, Mechanic Falls, Mrs. Annie Cotton and Mrs. Marguerite Kendall of Bethel.

Den 3 of the Cub Scouts met Tuesday at Mrs. Keniston's. Each boy is to make a game for this month, the theme being "Come to the Fair". Progress reports were made by the boys on their games. The boys did broomstick gymnastics and sang Cub Scout Songs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett (Julia Rose Brown) have a daughter, Leslie Michelle, born Sept. 22, in Evansville, Ind. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown, great grandmother, Mrs. Abbie Brown of Bethel; and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett of Locke Mills.

Sheri Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Angevine of Tyler Street, celebrated her sixth birthday Sept. 19 on Saturday with a party of games and refreshments at her home. Those present: Tammy Reed, Stephanie Smith, Shawn Smith, Becky Jodrey, Mindy Merrill, Kristy and Sheri Angevine.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church met Thursday evening, Sept. 18, with a supper in the church dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holt were guests. Mr. Holt showed slides and told of interesting places in and about Wyoming. A business meeting followed the program with Mrs. Richard Stevens presiding. The opening devotions concerned the aims and goals of the WSCS. It was announced that the Portland District WSCS meeting would be held in Auburn, Sept. 25.

Carelessness is responsible for many accidents, but you can't make the careless people believe it.

benefit programs, and salary negotiations of teachers and administrators was distributed at the meeting.

The board granted permission to Gileads International to place copies of the New Testament in the fifth grade of District schools for pupils to take if they desire.

It was reported by Mr. Spugnardi that there were 32 pupils in grade three at Woodstock Elementary School and he mentioned the possibility of a need to split this group if funds were available as well as finding a teacher. A recommendation is to be made at the next board meeting.

The directors received from Mr. Ryder an administrative handbook; copies of laws enacted by the 104th legislature relating to education, and information relating to the state bond referendum on Nov. 4.

The following business items were requested by board members to be placed on the next meeting's agenda: break-down of pupil-teacher ratio by subject area at Telstar; pupil-teacher ratio of high schools in the surrounding area; discussion on law enacted by 104th legislature relating to increasing pay to members of the board of directors; cost breakdown in transportation account of delivering children on the late bus run versus the central dropping off point.

An executive session was held to discuss plans for the forthcoming teacher salary negotiations.

Directors not present at the Monday meeting were: William Cousins, Bethel, and Roderick Sidelinger of Andover.

The next regular board meeting will be held at Andover Elementary School at 7:30 on Monday evening, Oct. 6.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY COMMITTEES MEET

An organizational meeting of the recently elected committees of the Bethel Historical Society was held at the home of the president, John T. Grover, Church Street, on Tuesday evening.

Following a general discussion on the purpose and aims of the Society, the committees held individual sessions to discuss plans and suggestions to be presented at future society meetings. Representatives of the committees on membership, programs and publicity were in attendance.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Historical Society, which is being held this evening (Thursday) at 7:30, at the Casco Community Room, everyone interested is invited to bring ideas for Bethel's part in the Maine Sesquicentennial celebration in 1970.

Six yards of pennies have been received from Elizabeth Bane.

ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR POSTMASTER'S POSITION AT WEST BETHEL UNTIL OCT. 20

The Interagency Board of Civil Service Examiners for Maine has announced an open competitive examination for Postmaster at West Bethel. The position is in grade PFS 6, starting salary $6,675 a year. Applications will be accepted until Oct. 20.

Complete information about examination requirements and instructions for filing may be obtained from the post office where the vacancy exists or from the Interagency Board of Civil Service Examiners, Federal Building, Augusta. Applications must be filed with the Interagency Board and must be received or postmarked not later than the closing date specified above.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for appointment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, politics, or any other non-merit factor. Final selections will be made by the Post Office Department in accord with procedures and standards adopted as a result of the President's decision in February 1969 to take the selection of Postmasters and Rural Carriers out of politics and to fill vacancies on a strict merit basis.

at the Legion Rooms. The four Gold Star Mothers will be given a gift on behalf of the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary will meet once a month starting Oct. 14, on the second Tuesday.
